I skipped Step Three thinking I could recover spiritually on my own. Of course, I came back to this Step because nothing changed over the years. I was struck at a crossroads. Turning to a Higher Power was my last option. The phrase, "as we understood Him" gave me courage to trust what I could not see. I realized I did not understand much about a Higher Power, but I had witness people in my home group changing their lives. They were beginning to smile, to be happy, and to focus on themselves instead of the alcoholic. A Higher Power did present miracles that I could not miss.

When have I seen a Higher Power working in the lives of those around me?

When I first tried practicing Step Three, I thought it was a decision I would make once for the rest of my life. Now I understand I make this decision over and over again with each new day. I am not perfect, and my nature is to try to do things own way. It requires a leap of faith each day to allow God to direct my will and my life. How do I use Step Three in my daily life?

What have I experienced when I have turned my will and life over to the care of a Higher Power?
